SALVAGING OF GRAVEL ROADS BEFORE BOARD

Funds For Such Work Is Problem Faced By Supervisors

An economic plan of carrying out the road patrol system in Lee county to provide funds for the maintenance of the present system of gravel roads, was outlined to the Board of Supervisors yesterday by Chairman William H. Brucker of the Road and Bridge committee. The China supervisor presented a suggestion to the board which provided for the discontinuance of one of the heavy grading units this coming season. By discontinuing one of these units, Supervisor Brucker pointed out, a saving of approximately $10,000 would be effected and this could be expended upon the gravel road system. It was explained that by using but one of the heavy grading units this season that a saving of approximately $7,000 would be effected alone, and that an additional $3,000 would be saved through the relief from rebuilding and repairing of bridges and culverts.

This sum would probably not be sufficient to carry out the work that is necessary, but would go a long way toward repairing worn stretches and covering gaps. Chairman Brucker told the board members.

To Submit Plans. "Lee county stands to lose the roads that have already been built unless something toward their repair and maintenance is done and that," stated Supervisor Brucker. "Then there are places where small gaps exist and these could be surfaced with a small expense, thus providing a good road for many more of the taxpayers of the county. There is no urgent need for the operation of both heavy grading outfits this season and the money by tying up one of these units would go a long way toward saving the roads we have already constructed."

It was expected that the road and bridge committee would submit two different plans to the county board at the present session to provide relief for the county highway gravel road system, as the result of Supervisor Brucker's suggestion at yesterday's meeting.

Supervisor William Rose of this city, called the attention of the board at this morning's session to proposed changes to be made on the Lincoln memorial stone which is on the east side of the court house property. A date on the face of the stone is not authentic and is to be changed. This will necessitate the complete cutting away of the surface as it is at present and relettering. No action was taken by the board.

Dr. E. C. White of West Brooklyn appeared before the board this morning explaining a claim which had been submitted to the board.

Arkansas Solon Is Mysteriously Shot

Little Rock, Ark., Mar. 12—(UP)—Representative W. U. McCabe was mysteriously wounded today a few hours before adjournment of the Arkansas legislature, and taken in a critical condition to a hospital.

H. G. Landsdale, Atlanta, was arrested and held by police. He denied any connection with the shooting, which occurred in a hotel.

Hotel officials said McCabe had been drinking and had created a disturbance. Landsdale, who occupied a room across a hall from McCabe, telephoned the hotel clerk that "if you don't stop that rumpus I will," the clerk said.

McCabe was shot just below the heart and from a point in the hall outside his door, police said. A revolver of the calibre used in the shooting was found in Landsdale's room, police said.

Wierd Death Watch Puzzles Officers

Chicago, Mar. 12—(AP)—Circumstances of a wierd death watch puzzle police authorities today.

The bodies of Miss E. Well, 52, and her friend, Esther White, 50, a divorcee, were found in an apartment. Both apparently had been there for several weeks.

Police suggested Miss Well, paralytic, died first, and that Miss White, after living a week in the apartment with the body, collapsed on the living room floor and died also.

200 Chinese Killed In Boat Explosion

Shanghai, March 12—(UP)—Two hundred passengers lost their lives today in an explosion aboard the river steamer Pachi, the Shanghai Harbor Master officially announced. The Pachi was a total loss.

Oddities in the NEWS

$1,750 FOR BISCUITS

Chicago, March 12—(AP)—Steve Sadler's biscuits were good, but they're not worth $100,000.

Steve told a jury he couldn't bake biscuits anymore because Peter Kostyal bit off his finger and he asked for $100,000, but the jurors figured $1,750 would be enough.

Kostyal told the jury that his wife used to be Mrs. Sadler and that he was merely trying to collect some alimony Sadler owed her when the biting incident occurred.

IN WEE SMALL HOURS

Chicago, March 12—(AP)—Two Chicago tailors were kept working overtime last night in spite of the fact that business was extremely dull.

It sounds paradoxical, but it's true nevertheless. This is how it happened:

Two men walked into the tailor shop of Louis Hirsch, drew pistols, herded Edward W. Pence, the manager, and his assistant, Peter Zimmerman, into a rear room, took their money and their trousers and walked away.

It was late and Pence and Zimmerman wanted to go home, but couldn't because there were no ready-made pants available in the shop.

Then they solved the problem by sitting down and making two pairs, finishing up around midnight.

FOXY WOLVES

Toronto, March 12—(AP)—There is a leader of a wolfpack in northern Ontario who apparently knows that it is dangerous for airplanes to land on slush ice.

Captain W. Roy Maxwell, Director of the Provincial Air Force, was back from a flight to the north country today telling how this wolf out-man-euvered the plane to save himself and his three companions.

Four timber wolves were sighted on Bromley Lake, north of Cogawa, and the fliers started in pursuit bent on getting the pelts and bounty paid for dead wolves.

The plane followed the frightened wolves for three miles trying to drive them onto a section of the lake where the ice afforded a safe landing.

"But," Maxwell said, "the biggest wolf, a born leader, interpreted our intention and headed out onto the lake to a point where the slush was deepest and dangerous. There he formed his platoon into single file and just ran round in a circle. We couldn't budge him from this line of defense and when we gave up in disgust and veered off, there were the four of them, slowed down to a walk, still playing ring around rosy and giving us the laugh for our wasted half hour."

Claim New Evidence Will Free Kirkland

Valparaiso, Ind., Mar. 12—(AP)—A story that Arlene Draves, 18, died from wounds resulting from being struck over the head with a milk bottle in the hands of a jealous girl friend, and not from bruises inflicted by the convicted Virgil Kirkland, engaged the attention of his counsel today.

Framing their plea for a new trial, to be presented to Judge Grant Crumpler Monday, defense attorney Barratt O'Hara said that he was seeking the witnesses to present at a new trial.

Kirkland, who is to be sentenced to life imprisonment Monday following his conviction Tuesday night for the death of the girl at the drinking party at the Gary home of David Thompson, was scheduled to be taken to the state prison at Michigan City soon after the pronouncement.

Kirkland was indicted with Thompson and three other youths. The others are still to come to trial.

MANIAC SET FIRE TO FARM BUILDINGS, ALARMED OWNERS, FOUGHT FIREMEN BEFORE BEING SHOT BY STATE POLICE

Morristown, N. J., Mar. 12—(UP)—An unidentified maniac, who set fire to three buildings on a farm near here and then tried to prevent firemen from extinguishing the blaze, was slain today by state troopers who fired to frighten him.

Mrs. Gilbert Welsh, answering a knock at the front door, was confronted by a man who shouted: "I've burned you out. Your barns are on fire."

"Call the fire engine," Mrs. Welsh said to her husband.

The maniac knocked her down and ran into the house where Welsh grappled with him. The man tore himself away.

BUREAU SCHOOLS' PLAN VISIT TO DIXON MARCH 20

Education Tour Will Be Made To This City On That Day

Dixon has been selected for the annual educational tour sponsored by Prof. Roy H. Tomlinson of Princeton, superintendent of the Bureau township public schools. About 120 students, teachers and faculty members and many others who are interested, will spend the entire day in Dixon and vicinity, visiting points of historic interest, and manufacturing industries.

Dixon was selected after Rockford, Freeport and Sterling were considered for the day's visit. For the past few years pupils, students, teachers, faculty members and parents of the school children as well as any others who are interested have made this especially arranged educational tour. Peoria and Aurora have been visited in past years and the trips have become immensely popular.

The caravan will arrive in Dixon about 9:30 Friday morning, March 20. Secretary Miss Frances Patrick at the Chamber of Commerce was today arranging a tentative schedule which would include the vocational therapy department of the Dixon state hospital; the confectionery division of the Borden Company, Supt. W. J. Sullivan having invited the tourists to inspect the plant; the Grand Detroit plow division factory of the J. I. Case Company, the new Dixon high school, the court house, fire department, the Lincoln Memorial and in all probability a trip through the Reynolds Wire Company's plant as well as the William B. Johnson shoe factory.

The resolution was offered as a result of the death of Joseph Coakley, Chicago, who died in solitary confinement at Joliet Sunday. Though a coroner's jury had held that his death was due to heart trouble, the legislature has received hints of alleged cruelty of prisoners in solitary confinement and several members had expressed a desire for information on the subject.

Polo Widow Passed Away On Wednesday

(Special Telegraph Service) Polo, March 12—Mrs. Ida Schell, 72, widow of the late Oscar Schell, passed away Wednesday afternoon at Clinton, where she went to make her home during the winter. The body will be brought to the home in Polo and funeral services will be held at the Lutheran church at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. D. P. Blair, a former pastor of that church, officiating and with burial in Fairmount.

Harvey Shoemaker, a former resident of Polo, died at his home in Mt. Morris this morning, death resulting from pneumonia. Funeral services will be held at the Mt. Morris M. E. church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with burial in Oakwood cemetery there.

The deceased was born on a farm near Polo in May 1895 and was married in 1917 to Celia Olsen, who survives, with two daughters and a son.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Hendrix, whose death was announced in Wednesday evening's Telegraph, will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Tait officiating and with burial in Fairmount.

Five Chicago Poll Officials Arrested

Chicago, Mar. 12—(AP)—Three judges and two clerks of election were accused today of fraud in counting ballots in the recent city primary. The precinct in which they worked returned 308 ballots for Mayor William Hale Thompson and none for his opponents for the Republican nomination for Mayor, it was charged.

The accused men, who were arrested, were John Donnelly, Democratic judge; Joseph Border, Republican judge; Arthur Schultz, Republican judge; Patrick S. Fitzgerald, Democratic clerk, and Herman Eller, Republican clerk.

TWO APPOINTMENTS

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 12—(UP)—Appointment of Herbert N. Bloomquist, Galesburg, former Assistant State Treasurer, as statistician of the State Department of Finance, was announced by Governor L. L. Emerson here today. Another appointment by Emerson today was that of E. L. Webber, Mount Sterling, to be Public Administrator of Brown county.

WARDEN'S REPORT

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 12—(AP)—Warden H. C. Hill's report of the death of Joseph Coakley at Joliet state penitentiary Sunday was released today by Frank D. Whipp, Superintendent of Prisons, following the passage of the legislative investigation resolution, in the House of Representatives.

Warden Hill requested an impartial investigation. His report to the Superintendent was in part as follows: "At the time of his death Coakley had been confined in 'solitary' for 34 days for stealing butter and throwing quantities of food on the kitchen floor, where he was employed as assistant cook."

"He had been cuffed to the door of his cell every morning and every afternoon, and had been examined at regular intervals by the keeper D. D. Beasley and had also been examined by Dr. C. J. Carlin, prison physician, on Friday. At no time had he complained of discomfort, but on Sunday morning, about 11 o'clock, he told Beasley he was not feeling well. Beasley immediately unlocked him from the door, had some water given him and had him rolled up in his blankets. He then called Captain Carpenter who called

INVESTIGATION OF PRISON LIFE VOTED BY HOUSE

Committee Named Today To Look Into Conditions There

By GEORGE E. SCHUPPE (United Press Staff Correspondent) Springfield, Ill., Mar. 12—(UP)—

Investigation of the management of the Illinois state penitentiary at Joliet and of its treatment of prisoners was voted by the Illinois state legislature today with the adoption by the House of Representatives of a House resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to make such an investigation.

The resolution, introduced by Republican Floor Leader Roger Little, Champaign, provides for the appointment of a committee of five "to investigate the management of the Illinois state penitentiary, its treatment of prisoners and methods employed in preserving discipline" authorizes it to hold hearings, issue subpoenas and to administer oaths, and to report back to the House "as speedily as possible."

The resolution was adopted without a dissenting vote though one speaker did attempt to rise to object but was ruled out of order.

Alleged Cruelty. The resolution was offered as a result of the death of Joseph Coakley, Chicago, who died in solitary confinement at Joliet Sunday. Though a coroner's jury had held that his death was due to heart trouble, the legislature has received hints of alleged cruelty of prisoners in solitary confinement and several members had expressed a desire for information on the subject.

The inquiry, which will probably be held at Joliet next week, also will include questioning as to the killing of three convicts who sought to escape from Joliet about three weeks ago. They were shot down with machine guns after they had climbed over the prison walls.

Following adoption of the resolution Speaker David Shanahan, Republican, Chicago, appointed the following committee:

Little, W. G. Thon, Chicago; Harry McCaskin, of Rock Island; Republicans; and Michael L. Igoe of Chicago, and M. E. Bray of Litchfield, Democrats.

Aside from adoption of the resolution there was little activity in either house of the legislature, which adjourned after brief sessions to go to Champaign for a two-day inspection of the University of Illinois.

While at Champaign the legislature will hear evidence in support of pleas for appropriations which the University will ask for in the next few weeks.

The amount which the University is expected to ask for will total around the $10,000,000 mark.

New Bills Filed

New bills today were as follows: Senate By Paddock—increases County Court venire from 12 to 24.

By Baker—provides for adoption of ordinances pertaining to building construction, plumbing, electric wiring, boilers and other mechanical equipment in buildings, in conformity with standard codes.

House By Lyons—same as H. B. 339—regulates real estate brokers.

By Chynoweth—reduces gross weight of vehicles using hard roads. Gives permission to issue permits for trucks and trailers of a greater length than 35 feet.

By Lyons—cuts off use of sirens on autos.

By Lyons—gives owners of cars from other states right to remain in state indefinitely.

By Lyons—appropriates $75,000 to Department of Public Works and Buildings.

American Gunboats Attached Repeatedly

Shanghai, Mar. 12—(UP)—Seven gunboats comprising the United States Yangtze river patrol have been the targets of not less than thirty-seven bandit attacks since last July, American naval authorities here revealed today.

During the same period armed American guards aboard commercial vessels were attacked eighty-seven times.

Not once did the roving bands of river shore brigands, with their ancient, rusty, muzzle-loading cannon, emerge victorious from the many battles along the 1,600 tortuous miles of the Yangtze between Hankow, capital of China, and Chungking, deep in the interior.

Scores of bandits fell dead before the fire of machine gun and three-inch rifles manned by American Bluejackets. Countless others were wounded, but an accurate check of the dead and injured never was made because surviving brigands invariably carried off the victims.

Boy Stumbled In Snow Drift, Killed

Watseka, Ill., Mar. 12—(UP)—Funeral services were arranged today for 9-year-old Francis Regner who stumbled in a snow drift and was killed when the wheels of a heavy hayrack crushed his head.

The boy had returned from school and was walking backward leading a team of horses hitched to the rack when he stumbled and the wagon passed over him. He was on his way to see his mother, who was visiting a neighbor with her three-weeks-old baby.

Herman Knopf, former Milwaukee pharmacist, who was released from the Lee county jail, February 20 last, and paroled that he might accept a position as a real estate salesman, apparently missed his calling and substituted another profession, according to a telegram received by Sheriff Fred Richardson at noon today from State's Attorney C. E. Bartman of Hot Springs, S. D. The telegram stated that Knopf was in custody at that place, having been arrested early in the week while hauling a load of alcohol. Information as to his incarceration in the Lee county jail was sought by the Hot Springs prosecutor and this was forwarded by Sheriff Richardson.

Knopf and a brother were arrested near Dixon on the Lincoln Highway on the morning of December 19 by Sheriff Richardson, while taking a load of alcohol west, supposedly into Iowa. Herman Knopf assumed the responsibility and was fined and sent to the county jail. He was unable to pay the fine and after serving his sentence, was admitted to parole, when his brother came to Dixon and represented that a fine position as real estate salesman was awaiting Herman, providing that his release could be obtained.

The car was left in Dixon with Sheriff Richardson until the fine could be paid and Herman was paroled. It was represented that the car belonged to Knopf's aged mother in Milwaukee, and the probabilities now are that it will be sold to satisfy the remainder of the fine and costs.

Repplies to Cost. Replying to the term "$500,000 report," Wickersham said the commission actually had spent but $56,958.59 on the prohibition report, while adding the general overhead expenses of the commission chargeable to the prohibition report, the estimate of cost would be $100,000.

The Chairman revealed that the Commission would be able to complete all its other investigations, and expressed the hope that one being made for the commission on organization, jurisdiction and functions of the courts would be carried on by

MOVE INITIATED TO COMPLETE H. S. AUDITORIUM

Committee Of Elks To Work With Board Toward That Object

A committee composed of A. B. Whitcombe, William Nixon, Louis Piche, George B. Shaw, William L. Leech, James R. Palmer and J. Barry Lennon was appointed last evening by Lester Street, Exalted Ruler-elect of Dixon lodge of Elks, to confer with the Board of Education and evolve a plan for the completion of the auditorium at the new high school building provided an approximate interesting and well attended meeting held at the Elks club house last evening.

The movement is sponsored by the local lodge of Elks and is a part of the program of civic improvement undertaken by the organization. Exalted Ruler Dr. Raymond Worsley called the meeting to order and later turned it over to the recently elected head of the lodge, Lester Street, who presided during the remainder of the session.

Several were called upon and expressed themselves as being strongly in favor of finishing the auditorium, not only as a benefit to the students and members of the high school faculty but to the public of Dixon and vicinity as well. It was stated that by its completion Dixon would be provided with a fine public assembly hall which would supply a long felt want in the city.

Cost About $68,000. Four members of the Board of Education were present and were called upon for short talks, as follows: F. K. Tribou, L. E. Jacobson, Frank Stephan and Herbert Nichols. It was stated that the original plans for the building provided an approximate expenditure of between $67,000 and $68,000 for the completion of the auditorium. It was not believed that this could be accomplished at a much lesser figure at the present time.

Members of the Board of Education were gratified that some organization had assumed the initiative in launching a campaign to bring about the completion of the auditorium and explained that a small sum is available at the present time, and that the board is unable to provide any funds for this purpose.

It was suggested that the students of the art and manual training departments of the high school be interested and assist in placing the shell in condition to accommodate certain forms of entertainment and then launch a drive for funds. It was also hinted that voluntary subscriptions might be forthcoming to be used for this purpose and following the general discussion, the committee of seven members was appointed to confer with the Board of Education and report to the lodge at a later meeting.

Don't Hurry Ladies: Form Line At Right

Chicago, Mar. 12 (AP)—Francis X. Bushman, former screen star, who recently announced he had lost his movie fortune, today said he had offered himself in marriage to the woman who would pay the most to wed him.

Bushman, who is appearing in a stock company in an outlying theater, stipulated however that the woman must have enough money to support him in the manner to which he had become accustomed. He was not sanguine that one would be found as he set the figure at "one million dollars or more."

The erstwhile movie lover gave his age as 47, his weight as 193 pounds, his height as 5 feet 11 inches and his health as perfect.

"I married twice for love," he said, "but both were failures. Perhaps I may find happiness with a third wife whom I marry for money."

The veteran actor said he would continue to appear in stock until the woman with the necessary requirements presents her proposal or he could publicize himself out of it.

ANNUAL TOWN MEET.

The annual town meeting will be held at the city hall Tuesday afternoon, April 7, at 2 o'clock, to which any who are interested in the affairs of Dixon township are invited to be present. Reports for the year will be read and other business of importance transacted.

PAYS FINE: FREED.

Thomas Hovig of Creston has been released from the county jail upon the payment of a fine of $100 and costs assessed by Justice Grover Gehant on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor. Hovig was arrested in Steward several days ago by deputies from the sheriff's office.

FOUND "PLANTED" GUN.

An automatic revolver, which had become jammed, was found in an elevator building at Franklin Grove yesterday afternoon by State Highway Officer Hal Roberts. According to information received by the officer, Harry Dugman, one of the trio of youthful Detroit automobile thieves, had told a prisoner in the Lee county jail that they had "planted" their guns in the elevator building. But one revolver was found and this was turned over to Sheriff Fred Richardson.

FIVE ARE PAROLED.

Francis Selover, Melvin Johnson, John Jones, John Kelly and Ned Kelly appeared before Judge Leech in the County Court yesterday afternoon with their attorney, John Buckle, of Amboy, and entered pleas of guilty to information charging petty larceny. Fines of $15 and costs were assessed against each of the young men, all of whom are residents of Amboy, and they were placed on parole for a period of one year. The five men were arrested for the theft of five bundles of red cedar shingles from the Walton lumber yards several days ago.

Rabies Quarantine In County Is Lifted

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 12—(UP)—Rabies quarantine restrictions in Lee and Whiteside counties and in Newton township, Livingston county, were ordered removed today by Director Stuart E. Pierson of the State Department of Agriculture. His action was based upon recommendation of Dr. W. H. Welch, Chief Veterinarian.

A report of the rabies situation of the state shows that there are still seven counties designated as quarantine areas: Sangamon, Christian, Champaign, Rock Island, Shelby, Jefferson and Menard.

How long the quarantines will continue, Welch said, depends entirely upon the degree to which the local peace officials are successful in obtaining obedience to the law demanding that all dogs be restrained, muzzled or vaccinated.

PROGRESSIVES
CONTINUE TALK
OF CONDITIONSHoover Attacked; Power
Issue Is Stressed By Senator Norris

Washington, Mar. 12—(AP)—Progressives extended their thought today to the 1932 presidential race although they disclaimed any intent of organizing a third party.

As the two-day meeting here entered its last sessions, conferees considered a proposal by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, their chairman, for establishment of a "conference of political independents."

In arranging committees to carry through the next Congress, the Nebraska director attention to a definite legislative program covering tariff, unemployment, power, agriculture and representative government.

The committees were named only to outline legislative work during the summer and fall, but they were expected to continue their efforts in organizing, even into the 1932 elections.

Unemployment and industrial stabilization came before the meeting today with Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, commander of the discussion. The afternoon session on power promised further criticism of the administration for its attitude toward regulation and government operation of Muscle Shoals.

Before adjournment tonight, the Progressives will receive reports from special committees outlining future work.

Hoover Attacked
Calling for new national policies, conference speakers have centered attacks on the Hoover administration through the platform of Chairman Raskob of the Democratic National Committee drew fire from Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho.

Norris himself focused attention on the next presidential race with expression of fear that the "power trust" was aiming at control of both national conventions and both Presidential candidates.

In this connection, Governor Roosevelt, Democrat, New York, sent a message to the convention urging study of his own water power policies. Roosevelt was invited to the meeting and friendly relations seem to have been established.

Prohibition crept into the discussions last night just for a moment when Charles A. Beard, historical writer, in reply to questions put to the conference by Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, said progressive opinion was opposed to blanket repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment without the provision of some form of public control of liquor.

Leaders, however, centered discussion on economic issues on the agenda and Beard's statement created no counter discussion.

The first day's meeting drew a round of suggestions. Senator cutting, Republican, New Mexico, advocated abolition of the Electoral College in the election of Presidents; he was a heavy-weight champion. He is making approximately $175,000 annually, he revealed.

Dempsey said today that he is definitely through with prize fighting. From now on he wants to be known as Jack Dempsey, referee and fight promoter.

With the finality that marked many of his left hooks, Jack said he felt that now, at nearly 36 years of age, he could not be at his physical best were he to try a comeback.

Dempsey once and for all settled the dispute he would return to the ring if Sharkey was declared heavy-weight champion. There had been considerable talk that Dempsey would again seek the heavy-weight crown if Sharkey was given the title.

"I like this new racket" of refereeing," Dempsey said in announcing his retirement. "It still gives me a chance to keep in touch with the fighting game."

He said his calendar for referee assignments throughout the country was booked solid for months ahead.

As a referee he is just as successful from a monetary point of view as he was a heavy-weight champion. He is making approximately $175,000 annually, he revealed.

Dempsey leaves for the east today and to keep several referee engagements.

Woman Calls Jury
Too Inquisitive
Chicago, Mar. 12—(AP)—Mrs. Shirley Kub, former Police Department investigator, whose refusal to testify before a grand jury investigating police corruption led to contempt charges against her, appeared in court today to tell her story.

Mrs. Kub, who said she turned down several lawyers because they wanted too much money to represent her, leaned toward Chief Justice John P. McGorty and in low tones asserted she wanted to help the grand jury "but all they were interested in were my personal affairs."

"They wanted to know," she said, "if my husband was a Negro" and denied that her reputed wealth was a fact.

Before the special grand jury was assembled to inquire into alleged police bribery and protection, Mrs. Kub was reported to have remarked that she had "enough information to blow up half the police department."

She disappeared after giving her first testimony a month ago and later was found in Chicago when a writ of habeas corpus was brought into court demanding her release from detention by Acting Police Commissioner John H. Alecock. She was brought before the grand jury again and was alleged to have refused to testify, resulting in the filing of the contempt information.

APPRECIATION.
We wish to extend our thanks to the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us in any way during my illness, also for the many friendly calls and for letters, cards and flowers sent. We thank one and all.
C. A. Geldmacher.

RULE BY LOVE, NOT FEAR
THE real man is a witness of God. Then let all our communications reflect this true witnessing to God. This should be the standard of conversation, its purpose and its meaning.

"Speak gently, it is better far To rule by love than fear; Speak gently; let no harsh word mar The good we may do here."

"Speak gently; 'tis a little thing, Dropped in the heart's deep well; The good, the joy that it may bring, Eternity shall tell."

Sweet Potatoes, Virginia, Serving 6
6 boiled sweet potatoes
6 strips bacon
4 tablespoons sugar
1 cup water
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
Peel potatoes. Wrap bacon around potatoes. Fit into baking pan and add rest of ingredients. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven. Baste frequently.

Prune Cake
1/2 cup fat
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk
1 cup seeded prunes (cooked)
2 tablespoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon lemon extract
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
Cream fat and add sugar. Add rest of ingredients and beat three minutes. Pour into shallow pan lined with wax paper. Bake 30 minutes in moderately slow oven. Cook and frost.

Nut Caramel Frosting
1 cup dark brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup broken nuts
Mix sugars, milk and butter. Cook over moderate fire and stir frequently until soft ball forms when portion is tested in cold water. Set aside 15 minutes. Beat until creamy. Add rest of ingredients and spread on top cake.

Caramel syrup is made by sprinkling 1/2 cup of sugar over the bottom of an iron frying pan. Heat slowly, stir constantly until light colored syrup forms. Add 1/2 cup of water and boil gently until sugar has melted. Cool and store in ice box. Use as desired.

Not So Many Divorces in Chicago Now

Chicago, Mar. 12—(AP)—Divorce court attaches are singing the "hard time blues."

Chicago's population has been increasing right along, but the divorce business has been dull.

During the past five months there has been a steady downward trend, it was disclosed by M. S. Szymczak, clerk of the Superior Court and Thomas O. Wallace, clerk of the Circuit Court. In the five months ending February 28 the number of suits filed in the two courts was 4,487, or six per cent less than the 4,787 for the same period a year ago.

"Apparently," said Szymczak, "husbands would rather keep their wives and wives their husbands than spend money at this time on getting parted."

MRS. BARLOW WAS GUEST IN STERLING
Mrs. A. L. Barlow was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. I. Carolus, in Sterling Wednesday.

Dixon Woman's Club Saturday

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Dixon Woman's club will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the Christian church.

Mrs. F. L. Thomas, chairman of the Child Welfare and Public Health Dept., also does the local club work for the Conservation division of the Federation, under which classification the Saturday program would be listed.

The speaker of the afternoon is Miss Zella Wident from the Extension Dept. of the International Harvester Co., who will give an illustrated lecture on "Bird Friends."

Miss Wident is a speaker of wide experience, as she has been engaged for a number of years in this public work and conducts women's meetings in every section of the United States.

This timely spring topic should appeal to every one and all who attend are assured of a delightful educational hour on bird lore.

Mrs. Charles Rosbrook, of Dixon, will open the program with a group of whistling songs.

The regular food Exchange will be conducted with the social chairman, Mrs. I. N. Habecker in charge.

Today 19th Birthday American Girl Scouting

Today, March 12, is the nineteenth birthday of American Girl Scouting. It was on March 12, 1912, that Juliette Low assembled the eleven girls and the leader whom she had chosen as pioneers of Girl Scouting in this country. They met in the front room on the first floor of the Louise Porter Home in Savannah, Georgia. The first girl on the register was Daisy Gordon, niece of the founder. She is now Mrs. Samuel Lawrence of Savannah, and still a Girl Scout. Mrs. Low opened the afternoon program with an informal talk on the purpose and requirements of Scouting. Then she taught the girls some tests, and the rest of the time they played games.

From this small gathering of eleven girls and a leader the membership has grown until now the Girl Scouts number a quarter of a million with thirty-two thousand leaders.

T. B. Mortality Lowest In the State's History

Springfield, Ill., March 12—(UP)—Tuberculosis mortality in Illinois last year was the lowest in the state's history, according to the State Department of Health here today which announced plans for a statewide drive against the disease next month. Cooperating in the drive, according to the announcement, will be state and local tuberculosis associations, medical societies and health departments in all communities.

The drive which will consist of what Health Director Hall says is "a vigorous early diagnosis" campaign, "is a project designed to detect tuberculosis, especially in young adults and at a time when the greatest probability of recovery may be reasonably held out to the individual."

AUXILIARY VETERANS FOREIGN WARS TO MEET

The Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars are sponsoring a picnic supper Friday night at 6:30 in G. A. R. hall. The regular business of the order will not be transacted at this time. Guests are expected from Freeport, Rockford, and Sterling. All members of the Horace F. Ort Post, No. 540, and their families are cordially invited to attend.

After the supper cards will occupy the evening.

Styles Queen Mary Does—And Doesn't—Like

"I like frocks of medium length that come just above the ankle," said Queen Mary of England the other day, and you get the idea from the photo of her above. Furthermore—

"I think very long dresses with flared skirts are difficult to wear," she added. "Only an expert like a manikin (as pictured above) can really wear them effectively."

Flavored Gelatins Delightful Dessert

Gelatin desserts are particularly useful as carriers of fruits and fruit juices either fresh, canned or stewed. The value of fruit and fruit acids in the diet is being stressed more and more all the time for people of all ages. In pleasing combinations with gelatin desserts, they have a distinct appetite appeal as well.

Flavored gelatins are manufactured in a delightful assortment—usually strawberry, cherry, raspberry, orange, lemon and lime. With such a choice in flavor and color and an amazing variety of reasonable fruits, to combine with them, the problems of a suitable dessert for children is easily solved.

Older children like to entertain their friends after school, or help with the preparations for a simple party by making up the quick-setting gelatin desserts. This seems to take the place of "making candy," the diversion of our childhood, and is certainly a great improvement from the health standpoint.

THE DANGER OF WAITING.

Life can play foul jokes on people sometimes.

In a large middle-western city there was a grocer, who worked very hard and saved his money religiously so that his old age would be provided for.

For 50 years he stuck to his grocery store. He worked and saved too hard to have very much fun, but he was looking forward to the day when he could retire. Then he would have his fun. He would have money and leisure, and he would make up for the years of hard work.

Well, he finally retired—money in bank, an assured income, a nice home, everything he needed. "Now," he told his friends, "I am going to enjoy life."

And just 24 hours after he had retired he dropped dead.

If a novelist put that in a book we wouldn't believe it. We would say that things don't really happen that way, and we would accuse the novelist of straining too hard for an ironic effect.

But life takes queer twists that are not permitted to good fiction. It all happened, precisely as it is described here; and all we can do is admit that there are times when wisdom and prudence are horribly confounded.

As a matter of fact, this sort of thing happens fairly often—in a little different way. Not many people have prepared for a care-free and leisurely old age die just as they begin to taste their reward, of course; but they get cheated out of their dues, just the same. They find that leisure, after a lifetime of hard work, is boredom. They find that they have forgotten how to play. They find that the empty hours are depressing because they do not know what to do with them. They find themselves feeling that they have been put upon the shelf, and they grow 10 years older in 12 months.

Perhaps we aren't meant to be too cautious. Deferring one's happiness to the end, when one will have time and the means to take it, is risky. For most of us that gilded tomorrow will never dawn. If we don't get our happiness along the way we shall never get it at all.

That is a lesson worth learning. The real joy of living is not something that can be banked and drawn on at some future date. It has to be taken from day to day. It is compounded, usually, of many little experiences. The haze of an autumn afternoon over a flaming woodland; the confident smile of a child, nestling in one's arms for a fairy tale; the smell of a clear wind as one trudges along a beach by blue water; the sudden revelation of tenderness in the eyes of a loved one; the brief, vanishing strain of a bit of music—of such things is a satisfying life fabricated. You cannot postpone them, you cannot wait for them. You must get them as you go along, or you will miss them entirely.

POLITICAL REALIGNMENT.

The pending conference of progressives in Washington may turn out to be one of the most important political developments of the decade. Certainly it is one of the most interesting.

It is interesting, not as an exposition of the power of the progressive group in Congress, nor as the formulation of a platform by these groups, but because it may help materially to bring about the long-awaited realignment of the major political parties.

The major parties have become very similar during the past decade or so. Unless the prohibition issue provides a sharp line of demarcation between them during the next presidential campaign, they will presumably offer programs that do not differ very greatly, and the American voter will have simply a choice between two candidates and not between two widely divergent schools of thought.

This is hardly healthful. It does not lead to any clear-cut decisions on public questions. It does not provide earnest debates on the important issues of the day. It tends, in fact, to reduce all campaigns simply to a struggle for power by two rival groups.

How far the progressive conference will go in bringing such a realignment nearer is, of course, an open question. The important thing about it is a bi-partisan conference. If its members can agree on a definite program for the next session of Congress—regardless of whether such a program be good, bad or indifferent—the consequences should be salutary.

The absurdity of the present bi-party lineup is apparent at a glance. Senator Norris of Nebraska and Senator Moses of New Hampshire are both Republicans—and are as far apart as the poles on almost every public issue. Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin is a Republican; so is Speaker Nicholas Longworth of the House of Representatives. President Hoover is a Republican—and so is Senator Borah of Idaho.

It is the same on the other side. John J. Raskob is a Democrat, and so is Senator Robinson of Arkansas. Senator Wagner of New York and Senator Harrison of Mississippi are both Democrats. The dry Carter Glass of Virginia and the wet Robert Bulkley of Ohio belong to the same party.

The party label, thus, means little. If a bi-partisan movement, whether progressive or conservative, can serve to draw like-minded men into separate groups we shall be a great deal better off.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

They watched the little native eat. Said Cowny, "That looks like a treat. I'm very fond of porridge and I'd like to have a dish. If we are here tomorrow morn. I'll beg some, sure as I am born. Perhaps I'll find a native who will kindly grant my wish."

The Travel Man said, "Don't you fret. I will make certain that you get a great big share of porridge. We will eat our breakfast here. But now let's find a place to snooze. It's late and there's no time to lose. If we all get a good night's sleep, we'll wake up full of cheer."

He led them to a native house, where all was quiet as a mouse. "There's no one home," wee Cowny said. "We'd better move along." The Travel Man just smiled and said, "Oh, no! Well stay right here, instead. This little hut is vacant and it's just where we belong."

The found the man who owned the place, and with a smile upon his face, he said, "I'll gladly rent the hut. There's room enough for all." The Travel Man paid him a sum and to the Tinies, shouted, "Come!" To get into the funny hut, the whole bunch had to crawl.

They slept real well and early dawn found everybody up and gone. The good old Travel Man then kept his promise to the bunch. Fine porridge made their morning meal. Soon Scouty said, "How good I feel. I've eaten so much porridge that I won't want any lunch."

They shortly took a long, long hike. Then Cowny cried, "There's what I like!" He pointed to a water hole, which natives gathered 'round. Right up to it the Tinies ran. A jug was borrowed from a man. Each Tiny took a drink. It was the clear-est they had found.

(The Tinymites meet a hunter in the next story.)

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

SUN YAT-SEN'S BIRTH

On March 12, 1867, Sun Yat-sen, Chinese revolutionary leader, known as the Father of the Chinese Republic, was born of native Christian parentage in the Kwantung province.

Following his course at the new medical school in Hongkong, of which he was the first graduate, Sun devoted himself to secret activities aiming to overthrow the Chinese monarchy. His personal influence had much to do with the inner organization of the 1911 revolution against the Manchu government.

Sun was in England when the revolution began. He returned to China, and on Jan. 5, 1912, took the oath of office as provisional president of the new republic, at the request of the national convention at Nanking. He resigned the next year, but when the president who succeeded him died, Sun put himself at the head of a movement for an independent republic of South China. He died of cancer at Peking.

These excuses are not frivolous, they are serious. That was the fault which these people had in common; they took the affairs of life too seriously. They exaggerated the importance of their own business. There are many people like that who think they cannot afford to take a day off. So they miss glimpses of sweeter worlds and fail of refreshing, ennobling experiences. Jesus loved to represent the religious life as a feast. Former Sec. Baker Opposes Proposals

Washington, March 11.—(UP)—Inability to foretell what future wars will be makes it difficult to legislate in contemplation of them, Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War in the cabinet of President Wilson, told the War Policies Commission here today.

The commission is making a study of wartime questions designed, among other things, to discover a method of eliminating the profiteer in times of conflict.

Baker refused to sanction any of the proposals thus far laid before the commission.

Proposals under consideration include a plan to "freeze" in event of conflict; to impose a universal draft on capital and labor; and to submit all proposed declarations of aggressive warfare to a popular referendum.

Baker argued that the passage of legislation in advance might prove embarrassing to those in charge of the conduct of the next war. He said that one difficulty lies in the inability of anyone to foresee what the next war will be like.

Lee County Farm Bureau Affairs

The Executive Committee of the Farm Bureau held an all day meeting at the office last Monday at which time C. E. Yale was hired for another three-year term as Farm Adviser.

There were about 115 farmers present at the pruning demonstration held at the B. S. Schildberg farm near Dixon last Tuesday, where R. S. Marsh from the University of Illinois demonstrated the pruning of apple trees. From there they went to the Reynoldswood farm and demonstrated pruning brambles and grape vines. In the afternoon a demonstration was held at the Lester Meyer farm with 90 present. These pruning demonstrations are creating more interest each year.

Miss Mildred Reinboth of Amboy will act as Assistant Girls Club Leader in Lee county this summer, working under Mrs. Florence Syverud home adviser. This is quite a step forward in club work for the Home Bureau. Every girl between the ages of 12 and 20 years is eligible to belong to the 4-H club. Mrs. George Travis of near Dixon is county chairman of club work.

At the meeting of the directors of the Farm Bureau held at Amboy on Wednesday there were 14 of the 22 present. It was decided to put on a three day membership drive in the county, March 16, 17 and 18, reporting results to the Farm Bureau office on the 19th. This drive will be put on by a group of eight to ten men in each township, when each man in the township will be visited, and given facts regarding the Farm Bureau work.

C. E. Yale, the farm adviser, and Anson Rosenkrans, president of the Farm Bureau, attended the district meeting of advisers and Farm Bureau presidents held at Freeport on Thursday, March 5.

Officials and members of the Lee County Farm Bureau were very sorry to hear of the death of James W. Larrabee of near Earlville. Mr. Larrabee has been a member of this organization ever since it was started and has always been one of its good boosters.

A. H. Bosworth of Dixon and John Truckenbrod of Sublette were at the Farm Bureau office Monday having their income tax returns made out with the assistance of the farm adviser.

On Wednesday evening, March 10, Larry Williams, manager of the Country Life Insurance Company will be in Amboy and talk at the insurance meeting. This will be an open meeting to which you are cordially invited. Besides Mr. Williams' talk, there will be music by Merriman's orchestra of Paw Paw free lunch, and a number of valuable prizes will be given away. Keep this date in mind.

The Nachusa Community club will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday evening, March 11, at which time C. E. Yale, will show three reels of motion pictures as a part of their program.

The adjusters of the Farm Bureau Insurance companies from the northern section of the state will hold a meeting at the Farm Bureau office Wednesday, March 11. This will be an all day meeting, and it is expected there will be about 25 adjusters present.

Old Clothes Man? No, It's Philadelphia's Mayor

Here's what a battered hat, a worn corduroy work suit, a red bandana handkerchief and a false moustache can do to the Chief Executive of America's third largest city. A modern Harun Al-Rashid, Mayor Harry Mackey adopted this disguise to visit Philadelphia's "flop houses" in a first-hand investigation of the treatment accorded to the city's unemployed.

PAW PAW NEWS

REMINISCENCES OF EARLY DAYS
By O. L. Cornell

Back in the days before the advent of the railroad there was a mail route from Paw Paw to Earlville via east Paw Paw, south Paw Paw, then to Earlville and back the same way every day except Sunday. The first mail carrier that I remember was Henry Quackenbush, grandfather of our townman, I. H. Breese. He had a little pair of brown mares that he drove a covered box wagon with a red box and yellow wheels. This made a pretty showy outfit and Mr. Quackenbush took great pride in showing them off to his passengers, as they could go like the wind. But unfortunately they both got out of the barn one night and got into a cornfield and foundered themselves so bad that one died. He supposed the other was going to die so he sold her to my father for a nominal sum. Father being sort of a horse doctor as well as trader, doctor her up and for a wonder she began to mend and in time was good as ever. As she was very gentle she became our family driver. We called her Old Kit. About that time they came a great horse tamer to Paw Paw, Prof. Skimmerhorn and he was certainly great at subduing wild and vicious horses. He had a box stall in the old Detamore barn. People brought him all sorts of unmanageable horses and he would put them in the stall and go in and work with them until he subdued them. But he did it in a humane and kind way. He had wonderful success and got a good many customers from the farmers about here. Horses were the only means of transportation in those days as the ox cart had passed out of the picture. Prof. Skimmerhorn had a fine large black horse of his own which he had trained to perfection, and he would give an exhibition on the street every day. Besides doing all other kinds of stunts he would hitch him on the cart and drive down to the Roberts farm, then he would come tearing back up the street, the horse on a dead run with the bit in his teeth and the man pulling with all his might till they would get about opposite the Commercial House when he would throw the lines out on the horses back and begin to crack the whip. Then the horse would stop and go into the barn on the walk. Well, after watching this performance for about a week, I got an inspiration. I wondered why I couldn't do those stunts with Old Kit. So I would hitch her up to a cart go out back of the barn and practice. The timber was pretty well cleared off and there was a good road if I was careful not to hit a tree. After quite a lot of practice I got Old Kit so she would go through it pretty good. But I didn't dare to let go the lines until one day when the folks were all away from home but me. I thought that was the time to give the whole show. So after driving over the road a few times I gave her a start and threw down the lines. Away we went down the road, but we got out of the track a little and hooked one wheel around a sapling. The cart came to a sudden stop but Old Kit kept on going down the road, and I went out over the dash onto my head. So that ended my horse training. A little later Sam Merwin came loading Old Kit. He was hanging onto the lead strap with both hands and his eyes were sticking out. He said "Did she break everything all to h—?" That tickled me so I had to laugh though I didn't feel much like laughing. I was pretty sore for some time. So ends the story of when Old Kit ran away.

My earliest recollections of Main Street are as follows: At the corner where the Steller Nangle home now stands was the L. H. Flagg property "Old Flagg" as we all called him had a low office in a little building under the maple tree that stands on the corner. He was a very prominent man in more ways than one. I think he was the largest man that ever lived in these parts. But he was very sensitive about his weight. In no way that I remember of could he be induced to get on a pair of scales, but it was guessed he would weigh from 400 to 500 pounds. He was Justice of the Peace, conveyance, collection agent and Notary Public. His residence stood where the Nangle house now stands and he had a blacksmith shop that stood about where the Dr. Stetler office stands. Besides all these he was a good singer and was called upon many times to sing at public gatherings. He had a little old melodeon which he would take in one hand and stroll into a tent meeting or some other gathering. And when he came down on the bass it fairly made the ground tremble. A favorite number of his was "The Old Sexton." Mr. Flagg's family consisted of Mrs. Flagg, two sons, Waite and Jerome, as near as I can remember and one daughter Anna, all very popular 55 years ago. Anna, married Will Shover, a young carpenter who built the house I am now living in. It was built on the Flagg lot where the Steller barn now stands.

Mrs. Flagg was a very estimable lady though a little taken up with spiritualism. She quite often would go out to our house and sit for hours and talk about spirits. Her stories were very fascinating to me but some times rather spooky.

LEE CENTER ITEMS

Dorothy Schoemaker, high school teacher, spent the week-end at her home in Rock Island, returning Monday morning.

Estelle Clayton entertained the following guests at a turkey dinner Monday evening:

Mrs. George C. Taylor, Walter and Alice, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maritz, Mrs. Malinda Aschenbrenner, George Ulrich and Mabel Green of Amboy.

Mrs. Andrew Mortinson returned last week from the East Moline State Hospital. She is somewhat improved.

The infant son of Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Frazier is very ill with a malady resembling erysipelas.

Among those here for the week-end were C. W. Jeandane, Don Wellman, John Carlson, Rockford; Ruth Berry, Mt. Morris; Phyllis Conlbear, Peru; Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Daw and little son, Chicago.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Busser died last Sunday morning from pneumonia and was buried in the DeWolf cemetery before.

Ex-Millionaire Reveals Marriage

Josiah V. Thompson, formerly a millionaire coal operator and banker of Uniontown, Pa., has admitted his marriage more than a year ago to Mrs. Rose Maloney of Pittsburgh and Cleveland. During the past year Thompson has denied that he was married, always parrying inquiry by saying that "he was too busy to talk of such silly things." He is shown here with Mrs. Thompson.

The infant has been in poor health from the date of his birth. Tuesday evening a number of the gentlemen friends of C. A. Ulrich gathered at his home to help him celebrate, in advance, his birthday which occurred the following day, Wednesday, March 11. There were two tables of 500 and Mrs. Ulrich served two courses of dainty refreshments.

The Auxiliary held its regular meeting in the Legion Hall Tuesday night, March 10. Next Tuesday, March 17, the members will meet with Mrs. Minnie Eaton to sew on carpet rags again, and also make tray savers for the Hines hospital. It will be an all-day session with a scramble dinner at noon. Any rags that the public has to spare, will be gratefully received for this most cause and may be left at the telephone office.

Roland Ulrich is able to be out again after the serious injury to his knee and will probably soon resume his attendance in high school.

The Lee Center Home Bureau will meet Thursday, March 19, at the home of Mrs. P. P. Downey. The lesson will be "Principles of Food Selections."

Head Of State Commerce Commission Address Meeting

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 12.—(UP)—Public utilities are no longer the "bogyman" of former generations, according to Charles W. Hadley, Chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission, who declared in a speech before delegates to the eleventh annual convention of the state electric, state railway and gas associations, here today that utilities are now controlled by "a harness of restrictions."

While admitting it was true that utilities had grown to gigantic proportions, Hadley declared that it was in spite of "a harness of restrictions" seen together by state and Federal commissions, and that as a result the utilities "are now able to perform a better, more efficient and yet cheaper service."

Hadley cited statistics to show the growth of public utilities. He declared that in 1920 capital invested totaled $504,000,000 and that today it amounted to more than eleven billion dollars.

He declared that the Illinois Commerce Commission has held 23,465 hearings in the nine year period between 1920 and 1929 on various subjects, and that as a result of these hearings 17,502 orders were issued.

Guests of Governor
Approximately 1,000 utility executives are in attendance at the convention which will continue through to tomorrow night. Tonight the utility men will be guests of Governor and Mrs. L. L. Emmerson at a reception at the executive mansion.

Today's session, aside from Hadley's talk, was devoted entirely to business of the three associations, which met in joint session this morning and held separate meeting this afternoon.

Harland H. Allen, economist of the Foreman-State National Bank of Chicago, will speak on "Working Back to Normalcy" at a dinner to be sponsored tonight by the Illinois Committee on Public Utility Information.

New officers for 1931 were elected by the three associations today.

Arthur D. Mackie, Vice President of the Illinois Power Company, Springfield, was elected President of the Illinois State Electric Association; R. B. MacDonald, of the Peoples Power Company, Moline, was elected head of the Illinois Electric Railways Association, and H. A. Kleinman, of the same company, was made President of the Illinois Gas Association.

George W. Schwane, Springfield, was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer of the three associations.

Auto Runs 59 Miles On Gallon Of Gas

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An actual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings but are also surprised to find quicker pickup, instant starting, smoother running motors and more power. The Whirlwind Mfg. Co., Dept. 2124, N. Station C, Milwaukee, Wis., for a limited time is offering a free device to those who will help introduce it. They also need men everywhere to make up to $100 weekly in their own territory taking care of local business. Write them at once for free sample and big money making offer.—Adv.

Insurance Co. Branch Office Burglarized

Chicago, Mar. 12.—(UP)—Burglars entered the office of a northside branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company early today, blew open the safe and obtained $500. An attorney's office nearby was looted and valuable documents were taken. A window of a doctor's office in the building was smashed but nothing of value was disturbed.

The insurance office was held up several weeks ago by a robber who forced 25 patrons and employs to lie on the floor and escaped with $2,000. Police believed the same man was involved in the burglary today.

The President declined the offer of a special train, and could not be prevailed upon to prolong his southern trip for a much-needed rest for himself. It was the first time he had seen his son since last October, although Mrs. Hoover has made several trips to Sunset Mountain.

POET'S CORNER

THE SNOW-DRIFT.
O sweet creation? cradled in the skies,
Crowning with beauty all the field's expanse;
Thy Parian glow and sculptured symmetries
Bespoke the wildest wonder of romance.

Thou sittest a monarch on thy Doric throne,
Carved with plinth, cornice, architrave and frieze;
Thy architect a cunninger skill doth own,
Than wrought with Phidias of Praetiles.

Topping in pride above the garden—fence,
Of this fair world thou seemest the fairest part;
Thy splendors shame the rarest excellence
That glows in Grecian or in Tuscan art.

Last night the north wind from his distant lair
Swept with mad fury down the river, see?
Piping a shrill blast on the startled air,
He tossed the snow, and shook the shuddering trees.

The hills made obeisance as he flew,
And smote their harpsichord of ancient pines;
He piled the multitudinous snow into Ranges of mimic Alps and Apennines.

So here I find thee, Memnon of the morn,
Rising from out thy river unbroken white;
As Love's fair goddess, on the river born,
Rose from the waves on nebulous clouds of light.

How glorious if thy beauty, Isle of snow,
Might here transfigure and forever lie;
A bright Atlantic in the world below,
Dropped from the broad blue ocean of the sky.

DRY SENATORS DELAY BATTLE ON "REPEALER"

Will Fight Bill When It Is Reported To Upper House

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Dry senators had little to say at the hearing on the Illinois prohibition repeal bill yesterday, when the committee on License and Miscellaneous deferred a vote on it next Wednesday, because of absentees.

Questioning of speakers was done entirely by wet Senators, including Sen. V. P. Michel of Peoria, chairman of the committee.

Quietness of the dry indicated that they are reserving their objections until the committee hearing or until the bill is reported to the Senate. Sen. Michel promised a roll call at next Wednesday's committee meeting, and indicated that no one will be permitted to speak then except members of the committee.

Sen. Patrick Carroll, Democrat, Chicago, in urging an immediate vote declared that none of the speakers at the hearing had said anything new, or had added to the fund of information on the question that the legislators already had. He withdrew his motion for a vote at the request of Chairman Michel.

Today the legislature was to hasten through the work on the calendar and board train for Urbana to conduct the biennial legislative inspection of the university of Illinois.

BEAUTY HELD FOR DEATH OF HER HUSBAND

Plea Of Self Defense Made By American Woman In Paris

Nice, France, Mar. 12.—(UP)—Mrs. Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, 26, who, as Charlotte Nash of St. Louis, won second honors in the 1924 international beauty pageant at Atlantic City, was held by police today on charges of killing her husband.

Nixon-Nirdlinger, once a prominent figure in theatrical life in the United States, was killed during a quarrel at the villa of the couple on the fashionable promenade Des Anglais.

Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger told police she fired two shots at her husband in self-defense when he threatened her with physical harm.

Nixon-Nirdlinger died immediately but the police investigation was hindered because of the inability of his wife to make herself clearly understood. It was understood that the Philadelphian had been married previously. He was 60.

Police said the shooting occurred when Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger was studying Italian. Her husband was said to have been jealous and to have accused his wife of studying the language because she wanted to talk "to your Italian friend."

Nixon-Nirdlinger was then described as threatening his wife, who grabbed the revolver from a bureau and fired. The second shot was fatal. She called the maid, who telephoned police. The woman was calm, although she had been crying, when police arrived.

The couple had two young children who were asleep in the next room, but were not awakened by the shots.

STATE FREE OF HARMFUL MILK IS PREDICTED

Gov. Emmerson Sends A Message To Pure Milk Assn.

Chicago, Ill., March 12.—(AP)—"With all agencies cooperating, we confidently look forward to the time when there will be no disease bearing milk produced or sold in this state," a message, from Gov. Louis L. Emmerson, delivered here today to members of the Pure Milk Association and related organizations, assembled in the Auditorium theatre, said.

Stuart J. Pierson, director of the State Department of Agriculture, read the message.

"The dairy interests in Illinois cooperating with state and local government have rendered monumental service in educating producers and distributors to a full realization of the necessity of keeping milk supplies uncontaminated."

"The department of agriculture and the department of health are lending effort to the furtherance of this program, through a campaign of education and through a fair but firm enforcement of health laws and the recently enacted law intended to free Illinois dairy herds from the danger of tuberculosis. With all agencies cooperating we look confidently forward to the time when there will be no disease bearing milk produced or sold in the state."

Extended his remarks, following the presentation of the governors message, Director Pierson urged cooperative efforts to obtain public favor for high class dairy products. "What this country needs, he said, is more and better efforts to market our present milk production—not more dairy products."

Stressing the value of united efforts in advertising the speaker gave a number of illustrations as evidence that individual producers, working in unity, can accomplish the ends that the big manufacturers attain. He cited the results of cooperative efforts in the sales of California fruits and other commodities as equivalent to the growth that certain branches of the chewing gum and cigarette business enjoy.

Mrs. Mame Carey of Buffalo, N. Y., wrote:—"Since I began taking Kruschen Salts I have lost 20 pounds and I feel as if I had lost 50 pounds—I feel so good and the best part of it all is that I eat anything I like."

Get an 85c bottle of KRUSCHEN SALTS at Sterling's Pharmacy (lasts 4 weeks). If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic—vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

Para Pepsin Tonic Is Aid to Stomach

"I have had stomach trouble for several years. Foods I ate did not seem to agree with me and at times I had pains in my stomach caused from food souring. I was also constipated and felt tired and drowsy and did not sleep well at night. Since I have been taking Para Pepsin I feel much better. My stomach is in better shape, gas does not form like it did and my bowels seem to be more regular. I sleep well and eat well, and do not have that tired feeling."

Para Pepsin, the new laxative-aid, is being introduced at the Schildberg's Pharmacy in Dixon and is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

DeKalb Has Most Satisfactory Milk

Springfield, Ill.—(UP)—With a rating of 85 per cent, DeKalb had the most satisfactory milk supply among fifteen Illinois cities which were surveyed by Federal and state milk sanitarians, according to a report made public here today by the State Health Department. Rockford was second with a rating of 77 per cent.

The poorest sanitary rating, 44 per cent, was given Quincy, while Champaign-Urbana stood next lowest with a score of 52 per cent.

For sanitary conditions of the raw or unpasteurized milk, Rockford led with a score of 91 per cent, led by a comfortable margin, Rock Island coming next with a rating of 67 per cent.

Lowest on the raw milk list was Mt. Vernon with a rating of 40 per cent, while East St. Louis, Carlinville and Murphysboro each scored 41 per cent and tied for second low place.

The ratings of both pasteurized and raw supplies in each city were based upon what is known as the U. S. public health service standard milk ordinance. These ratings indicate how short the sanitary conditions surrounding the milk supplies of these cities fall below requirements set forth in the ordinance.

The studies of milk supplies in the 15 Illinois cities was a part of a nation wide survey undertaken as a part of the fact finding activities of the White House Conference on child health and protection.

OLD AGE MAKES SLOW PROGRESS AMONG MACKMEN

Veteran Athletics All Spry And Full Of The Old Spirit

By ALAN GOULD.

Fort Myers, Fla., Mar. 12—(AP)—Age has begun to creep into the joints of the Athletics. The machine that has steam-rollered its major league baseball opposition for two straight seasons shows some signs of wear and tear, but the six main reasons for the rulership of the Philadelphia Athletics remain sound in body and spirit.

These reasons are the 68-year-old but exceedingly alert pilot, Connie Mack; Aloysius Harry Simmons, probably the greatest of present-day outfielders; James Fox, the flogging first baseman; Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, number 1 backstop of the major leagues; Robert Moses Grove and George Livingston Earnshaw, the two-man pitching staff.

In the absence of some of these vital cogs, such as Simmons and Earnshaw, who are training at Hot Springs, Ark., and to relieve some of the others, ambitious youngsters have been cavorting in the light blue of the A's. They may as well cavort to their heart's content now, for when the race starts next month, Mr. Mack will send out to the uniforms the same line-up that finished the 1930 world's series triumphant, except that Grove may be on the mound instead of Earnshaw.

Retain Spryness.
Aged though some of his other athletes may be, Mack's stars retain the spryness of youth. He is content to stand pat for 1931 and make a bid for three successive pennants.

Indeed, there is no reason for him to plan otherwise. Joe Boley's arm has come along slowly in spring training and Max Bishop has been laid up temporarily with a leg bruise, caused by a ball thrown from the outfield. The veteran keystone pair, however, figure to start, though Did Williams at short and Frank Higgins, Texas, at second base have been given plenty of chance to develop. Higgins particularly shows promise, both in the field and at bat.

The infield is well fortified elsewhere in reserves, with Phil Todd, late of the Red Sox, to sub for Fox and Eric McNair as understudy for Jimmy Dykes at third. Dykes, at 34, is one of the oldest of the A's in point of major league service. This is his fourteenth season but Jimmy still dresses, acts and chatters like a collegian.

"They are working us old fellows pretty hard," Dykes remarked to Bing Miller, the veteran outfielder, "but I guess we can still stand the pace, if the old legs don't give out."

Regular Outfield.
Miller, Simmons and George Haas form the outer patrol. They leave little to be desired unless it is more from the latter's part.

Behind the bat, Cochrane's probable relief man, on the rare occasions when one is needed, will be John Heving, obtained from the Red Sox on waivers.

George (Swede) Walberg gives every indication of a return to form. In which case Mack's staff may be expanded to a "big three." Roy Mahaffey, the big right-hander who came through handsomely in his first big league season, is counted on for a regular turn. Among the rookies, 19-year-old Hank McDonald, Pacific Coast product, has shown the stuff to indicate he may stick. Eddie Rommel and Texas Bill Shores will do any odd pitching chores needed while Grove, as usual, will be asked to step in and save a lot of games he doesn't start.

"Grove likes lots of work," said Mr. Mack, "probably we can find it for him."

OVERACTIVITY OF GLAND INCREASES PRESSURE OF BLOOD

It is generally known that overactivity of the thyroid gland is frequently associated with changes in the blood pressure; indeed, there are some physicians who feel that overactivity of the thyroid gland may be responsible for changes in the blood vessels.

In order to settle some of these doubtful points, Dr. L. M. Huxthal of Boston studied the blood pressure of patients before and after partial removal of the thyroid gland, and also the relationship between the basal metabolism, the type of goiter and the blood pressure.

This type of investigation which involves the accurate recording of change in the body functions under various conditions represents scientific research in the field of medicine.

The investigators found what most physicians have established over many years, namely, that the average height of the blood pressure increases with advancing age. In overactivity of the thyroid gland there is increase in the pulse pressure, which is decreased in about 50 per cent of the patients after the removal of the thyroid gland.

Victim of Racketeers' Vengeance in New York

The mysterious murder of pretty Vivian Gordon, above, has added a new melodramatic complication to New York's vice investigation. The former actress and fashion model, whose body was found at the foot of a steep embankment, had previously threatened to reveal to authorities a "frame-up" by police officers and others. A search was instituted for the driver of a taxi into which Miss Gordon was believed to have been lured when her unknown slayer strangled her to death with a clothesline.

There are cases also in which people with low or normal blood pressures who are toxic and emaciated have a distinct rise in the blood pressure after the over-activity of the thyroid is relieved.

However, it must be borne in mind that these patients are put to bed for a long time usually before undergoing operation, and that there is a fall of blood pressure usually when there is marked emaciation, as occurs with starvation; hence these factors may be responsible for the rise in blood pressure.

It was found that in patients with high blood pressure and over-activity of the thyroid, the blood pressure may be slightly higher after operation for the removal of the thyroid tissue.

In general, the investigations indicate that there is nothing about over-activity of the thyroid gland, that will lead to permanent changes in the blood vessels or that is entirely responsible for high blood pressure.

The evidence is quite clear that over-activity of the thyroid gland, expressed by the diagnosis hyperthyroidism, is itself a serious condition regardless of the effect it may have on the blood pressure.

Certainly it is associated with an unusual increase in the chemistry of the body, with speeding of the pulse, overstimulation of the nervous system, and other serious symptoms.

Hence there is plenty of reason for applying modern scientific medicine in its control, including removal of the thyroid gland, in the presence of such symptoms.

The direct relationship between hyperthyroidism and changes in the blood pressure may not be clear, but, as has been stated, the other symptoms are so definite that the absence of blood pressure need not be taken as any effect on the lowering of the pressure for avoiding proper surgical measures.

CHISHOLM TRAIL MAY BE MARKED IN OKLAHOMA

Bill to Commemorate Famous Cattle Path Befor Legislature

Oklahoma City—(UP)—The old Chisholm trail, traversed by countless thousands of Texas Longhorns during the days when Indians and buffaloes roamed the western prairies, may be officially marked in Oklahoma.

A bill was introduced in the legislature providing for the state highway commission to place markers on the trail from Doan's Crossing on Red River to a point on the Kansas state line, south of Dodge City, Kan.

The Chisholm trail is still visible in many sections of the state by small ravines which formed from the tracks made by cattle herds as they were driven through the Indian country from Texas ranches to Kansas markets.

Should the bill become a law the highway commission will be required to print maps, showing markings on the trail and its proximity to the Rock Island railroad and U. S. Highway No. 81, running north and south through the state.

Pioneers have been unable to agree on the exact route. Many contend it took a westerly course through the state while others claim it ran farther to the east.

The Chisholm trail was the scene of many stampedes, which the cattle drivers attempted to halt at night by the singing of the now famous cowboy songs.

TERRY PREPARED TO STAY OUT OF GAME THIS YEAR

Says That's What He'll Do If Demands Are Not Met Soon

By MERRILL E. COMPTON

United Press Staff Correspondent
Memphis, Tenn., March 12—(UP)—Bill Terry, who was voted the most valuable player in the National League last season and considered one of the greatest first basemen of all times, told the United Press today that he expected the New York Giants to meet his salary demands within the next few days.

Terry is holding out for a one year contract calling for $25,000 salary. He said Manager John McGraw and President Charles A. Stoneham of the Giants had informed him $22,000 was their best price.

"But it will be $25,000 or nothing," Terry said. "I'll stay out of baseball all year before I weaken. I am in a position to stay out."

"Stoneham may be stubborn, but I am just as stubborn as he is. Baseball writers say my trading price is $150,000 now. Do you think the Giants would want to discard a piece of material worth that much for $3,000? I don't and I intend to stand by what I believe to be the right price for a season of playing."

Terry reiterated his belief that every ball player should have a trade to fall back on.

With Terry it is the oil business. He is 32, but despite his youthfulness is considered a veteran in that trade. He has been employed by the same company for 12 years.

Right now Terry is more concerned with his three children than he is with a contract for the coming year. Bill, Jr., 13, was captain of his grade school team last season and this year will attempt to win a place on the high school nine. Marjorie, 6, while more interested in dolls shares her mother's interest in baseball.

Ken, who is 2, and not able to throw a baseball yet, is the family's best prospect for the big leagues in the opinion of Terry.

Terry has been conditioning himself here and said he would be ready to play first base the minute the Giants consented to his salary demands.

Spain's Political Future May Rest in Hands of These Men

With Spain still facing a civil crisis despite the formation of a new government these party leaders will have important roles in future political events. Abandonment Of "Dream City" Of Australia Urged Canberra, March 12—(AP)—Abandonment of Canberra, Australia's federal capital dream city, which cost $66,000,000 is being urged by many leaders in public life and business men.

Described by some politicians as "the nation's symbol of unity," and by others as "a running ulcer of finance," it would be returned to the sheep which once grazed on its broad acres if a widespread movement prevails. It is isolated and its maintenance is costly.

Its roads, gardens, public buildings, hotels and homes are among the best in Australia, but because the city was designed to eventually accommodate a big population, its buildings are scattered over 900 acres.

There are no street cars and to buy a tube of tooth paste one has to walk a mile or more. A water supply drainage, sewerage, and everything was designed on a grand scale and at a grand cost. A temporary Parliament House cost $3,200,000.

Five hotels, costing over $3,000,000 were built, but for two years three of them have been closed. The palatial Hotel Canberra is frequently without a single guest when the Parliament is in recess. Its big staff brought from England, has nobody to serve.

Five million dollars was spent by the government on houses, but many of them are empty. The countryside is littered with foundation stones marking the spots where great buildings are to arise in the dim future. All the stones bear in gilt letters the names of politicians.

Those who would abolish it say Canberra was built only because of interstate jealousy; that since it is apparent what a burden Canberra is and will be, all would be satisfied if the federal Parliament sat in either Melbourne or Sydney.

PLAN STATE MEET

Chicago, Mar. 12—(UP)—H. V. Porter, assistant manager of the Illinois High School Athletic Association, today announced the three officials chosen by the association for the championship basketball tournament games beginning at Champaign one week from today.

The men who will rule on all questions of fouls, free tosses, out-of-bounds plays and make the other quick decisions necessary to a game on the hardwood are: Milton Forsythe, Mt. Vernon; A. J. Bergstrom, Casey; and A. C. Serfling, Oak Park. Through these officials, the three great districts of Illinois, south, central and north, will be represented in the official whistle-blowing and decision-making at the state contest.

Of the three officials, Bergstrom and Serfling have had state tournament experience in other years, while Forsythe will make his debut this year.

All of the eight intersessional winners will see action in the first round play next Thursday. Pairings for the first round as announced by the I. H. S. A. are as follows:

Thursday

Game 1. 2 p. m. winner at Joliet vs. winner at Bridgeport.

Game 2. 3 p. m. winner at Springfield vs. winner at East St. Louis.

Game 3. 7 p. m. winner at Peoria vs. winner at Moline.

Game 4. 8 p. m. winner at Carbondale vs. winner at Danville.

Friday Night

Game 5. Winner of game 1 vs. winner of game 2.

Game 6. Winner of game 3 vs. winner of game 4.

Saturday Night

Game 7. Final title game between winners of games 5 and 6.

San Antonio, Tex., Mar. 12—(AP)—Uncle Charley Moran, who umpires exhibition games for the New York Giants, is glad the Giants were able to pile up so big a score against the University of Texas that he could not be blamed for the defeat.

Moran and Billy Ditch, Texas coach, have been bitter rivals ever since they each managed Texas League teams. Moran also coached

Spring Is Here—in These New Paris Sports Togs

Whether actively engaged in outdoor sports or not, the 1931 sports-woman can be charmingly attired in the most feminine and flattering things according to Paris.

LEFT—For Eileen Bennett, popular British tennis player, Jean Patou has made an ensemble consisting of a dress of white Jype-crepe, with a most interesting tucked effect at the waist and inverted pleats all the way around. Three crystal buttons and a little collar adorn it. The scarlet wool cardigan is beautifully tailored and the little white tennis hat, with a visor like a polo player's, has a tiny pom-pom of red ribbon.

RIGHT—The outdoor woman will feel perfectly at home in an ensemble Patou created for Cannes, all-white with summer elegance contrasting delicately. The tailored frock is of white marocain, with a leather belt of beige to match the fur and the coat is of visogone cloth. An all-white hat tops it.

Avalon, Calif., Mar. 12—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs today faced eastward and sundry recruits were wondering who would be left behind after the series with the Los Angeles club which opens tomorrow.

The squad finished its labor on Catalina Island yesterday and tomorrow will start an almost uninterrupted string of exhibitions, the first five of which will be against Los Angeles. The five players owed by the Cubs to the Angeles will be turned over after this set.

San Antonio, ex., Mar. 12—(AP)—The Hite Sox today had only one holdout on their list and his absence was causing Manager Donie Bush no worry.

Bush yesterday became certain of having his full strength ready for the opening of the annual series with the New York Giants, when Carl Reynolds came to terms with the club. Moe Berg, catcher, is the only one now out of the fold. Reynolds has been training with the University of Texas squad at Austin and is in shape for duty.

Bradenton, Fla., Mar. 12—(AP)—News from the Cardinal's training camp continues bullish. Now it's Southpaw Al Grabowski. Manager Gabby Street is saying nice things about him. Al had plenty of "stuff" last year, but had trouble controlling his knuckle ball.

"I believe he'll be able to throw it where he aims this season and will have a big year," Gabby commented today.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Mar. 12—(AP)—Bill Killefer's St. Louis Browns are about ready for the training ordeal of 27 exhibition games, which starts tomorrow with the Coast Guard team of Fort Lauderdale and closes April 12 with the second tilt of the St. Louis series. After today there will be only five open dates on the schedule. A long session of batting practice was called for today.

Income tax collections in the Chicago district during 1930 were $227,500,000, or $42,000,000 less than in 1929.

Stomach Ulcers Cause Life of Misery

Formerly Were Hard to Cure—But Now You Have Only to Take ULCICUR

While Ulcers of the Stomach are today probably afflicting a greater number of people than ever before in history—owing to the changes in food habits and other environments of present day civilization—it is indeed fortunate that we have a remedy for Ulcers as dependable as ULCICUR.

Not only will ULCICUR quickly remedy an ulcerated condition but it will also bring relief for almost any stomach disorder.

Mr. D. J. Eugene of 1252 Thorndale Ave., Chicago, Illinois reporting on the condition of his wife says: "She was at the Lakeside Hospital, taken there after she had had 23 hemorrhages one day, brought on by stomach ulcers. Doctors said an operation was necessary. But she could take no nourishment to build up for an operation. Heard of ULCICUR and tried it. She is in better health today than ever before. Gained 35 pounds—and eats anything and everything with no ill effects. I owe you a lot."

ULCICUR is recognized as the treatment most in demand for stomach ailments, so nearly every drug store carries it in stock continually, making it easy for you to try a bottle. If for any reason your nearest drugist happens to be without it, ask him to get a bottle for you.

short. They pulled five double plays yesterday for a fashionable audience, including Commissioner Landis and President Heydler of the National League.

Cuccinello also is the most consistently long hitter on the club. He was going at close to a 400 clip toward the end of 1930 and has been assigned to the cleanup position.

The infield will start with Heath, the Hollywood recruit, on first and Jerry Joe Stripp on third. Both can hit. The reserves are Ford, Signafoos and Dressen.

Handsome Harry Hellmann, the old American League batting champion, will be welcomed for outfield duty anytime he recovers from an ailment of the right arm. So far, however, the signs have pointed to the end of Hellmann's great career.

Probable Outfield

Howley's number one outfield combination now is composed of Gene Moore, the Dallas rookie, in right; Nick Cullop, the American Association home run king, in center; Walter Roetger, obtained from the Giants, in left. Ray Fitzgerald, from Bridgeport, Conn., and Crayton Crabtree, with Columbus (Ohio) last year, are on trial.

If Larry (Red) Benton stages a comeback and one or two youngsters come through, Cincinnati's pitching worries will be ended. Howley has great confidence in Benton's return to the form that carried him to 25 victories for the Giants in 1928.

Red Lucas has averaged 16 victories for the last four years with a second division outfit. He also is a great pinch hitter. Bennie Frey, Nashville product, made a good start last year and figures to improve. Eppa Rixey, Ray Kop, Owen Carroll and John Ogden are experienced men. The rookie prospects are Harlan Wyson, of Clarksville, Ohio, with Columbus last year; Al Eckert of Milwaukee, who played with Peoria and Columbus in 1930 and St. Johnson, recruited from Rock Island, Ill.

SPORT BRIEFS

Chicago, Mar. 12—(AP)—Match-maker Nate Lewis of the Chicago Stadium, left today for New York to try to sign Tommy Loughran, Jimmy Maloney, Ernie Schaaf or Jack Sharkey, for a 10-round bout with Tuffy Griffiths in the Stadium's next boxing show March 27.

The Stadium has moved its March 20 date up to March 27, and will pass up its other date for the month, March 30.

Chicago, Mar. 12—(AP)—Jack Kearns, manager of the world middleweight champion Mickey Walker, has lost another round in his bout to keep from paying Mrs. Lagna Kearns $500 a month temporary alimony pending settlement of their marital difficulties.

Appellate Otto Kerner yesterday denied a motion by Kearns' attorney to vacate the alimony order, but gave 45 days in which to appeal the decision. Kearns has a suit for annulment pending in Circuit Court, and has made no alimony payments since the order was issued last summer.

Chicago, Mar. 12—(UP)—A new world's record for attendance at an indoor boxing show was claimed today by Chicago Stadium after 23,000 fans packed themselves into the building to see eight amateurs win the right to represent Chicago in inter-city bouts with a New York team on March 30.

The eight Chicago Golden Gloves champions this year will win additional distinction when on May 12 they meet a team of amateur champions from France.

Receipts from last night's finals of the Chicago Golden Gloves tournament, in which 2000 boys originally were entered, were $45,000. Proceeds from this and the preliminary shows produced a total of $50,000 for charity.

To Play Off Forty-Hole Golf Deadlock

Miami, Fla., Mar. 12—(AP)—Unable to break a golfing deadlock before darkness fell last night, Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell had to go to the links for 18 holes today to end their 40 hole tie-up with Willie MacFarlane and Wiffy Cox for the championship of Miami's $5000 international four ball matches.

Sarazen and Farrell, seeking to repeat their tournament win of 1928, found the opposition of MacFarlane and Cox too much to down in the regulation 36 hole final match, after seeing one and two hole leads through the day, before the largest gallery in the history of the $5000 event.

Coming to the 36th all square, the teams halved the last hole and went into extra hole phase. Then they went through the 37th, 38th, 39th and 40th holes without breaking the tie.

At the 36th hole, Cox missed a four and took a five. MacFarlane, shooting his fourth, putted eight feet only to see the ball rim the cup and bounce out. Sarazen picked up Farrell, a scant eight feet from the cup, appeared to win, but the ball rode the rim and lifted out on the other side to card a halving five.

With dusk falling at the 40th cup, tournament officials postponed play until today, calling for an 18 hole match to decide the issue.

Should Farrell and Sarazen win, they will upset a tradition that no champions of the event have been able to repeat.

Boxer Killed As Wife Looked On

Prescott, Ariz., Mar. 12—(UP)—While his wife looked on, from a ring-side seat, Sam Terrin, middleweight boxer of Phoenix, was killed during the third round of a scheduled ten round fight here last night with John Henry, Phoenix Negro.

Henry was taken into technical custody pending the verdict of a coroner's jury.

Ring-side spectators said Terrin appeared in poor physical condition and that the Negro boxer had been leading the fight all the way.

In the third round Henry knocked Terrin to the floor with a left to the heart and a right to the jaw. Terrin died a few minutes later.

"Remember That Day, Babe?"

They are old acquaintances, these jolly fat fellows pictured above. They met in 1914 before either made his appearance in a major league ball park. Babe Ruth, left, pitching for Baltimore that day, held Joe McCarthy, right, Buffalo infielder, hitless in four times at the plate. Now McCarthy is commander-in-chief of the great New York Yankees, the greatest of which is the Babe. They were these friendly grins as the cameraman approached them in Boss McCarthy's headquarters in St. Petersburg.

INVESTIGATION OF IOWA U. NOW BACK IN CAPITAL

The Legislative Committee Completes Session Held In Chicago

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, March 12—(UP)—The Iowa legislative committee investigating administrative affairs at the University of Iowa moved back to Des Moines today after listening to Big Ten officials here in the past two days.

The main question insofar as athletics are concerned in the case, according to one of the Attorney General's lawyers is whether President Walter Jessup knew that violations of the Big Ten code existed prior to Iowa's expulsion in May, 1929.

Three letters were introduced which tended to show that President Jessup did know of these abuses. The letters were written by John L. Griffith, Big Ten Athletic Commissioner, to President Jessup in alumnus as saying: "when I go out for an athlete I get him" and another as saying "the conference is crazy if it thinks it has stopped me from helping athletes."

In another instance the University of Iowa basketball coach traded credits in physical education in summer school to a high school coach for two basketball players.

Despite these facts uncovered about the past administration of athletics at Iowa, Griffith testified that President Jessup and Director of Athletics E. H. Lauer again have the confidence of the Big Ten authorities.

"Are you satisfied that all complaints against Iowa—the complaints that resulted in the University's ouster from the conference—have been settled?" Griffith was asked.

"Yes," he replied. Other testimony brought out that funds to aid athletes continued to exist at Iowa even after that school had been reinstated in the Big Ten in February, 1930.

FACT SATISFIES U. S. Washington, Mar. 11—(AP)—Secretary Stimson indicated today that the British-Franco-Italian naval agreement was satisfactory to the United States.

The Secretary and President Hoover praised the agreement last week.

The Secretary declined to make any formal settlement as to the nature of the American participation in the settlement. The attitude of the American government that the settlement is one relating solely to the three interested powers was maintained by officials here today.

You can produce the best in quality at the most economical rate by feeding RED COMB and following RED COMB methods—with RED COMB Chick Starter and RED COMB Growing Mash, it's quick growth and deep yellow shanks; with RED COMB Egg Mash, it's eggs of highest interior quality.

Eggs produced on the Improved RED COMB are outstanding in their quality—thick viscous white with a relatively small percentage of the thin or outer white; strong, round yolk evenly colored a lemon shade and that appetizing flavor that can be connected with none other than a quality egg. Such quality contents sealed in a smooth, strong shell are in great contrast to eggs of "questionable character"—thin watery whites, dark or off-colored yolks that may be weak or broken down, distasteful flavors and weak shells.

FIRELIGHT IN THE NURSERY

THE fire's so red,
The flames are all astr,
And leap and leap, I love
To see them there.

It's dark. The flames
Show red against the door
When Nannie brings a light
They show no more.

"Tea's ready! Come
Sit on your little chair,
And let me tie your bib,
And smooth your hair."

It's nice, this bread
With butter; Very nice;
And honey thickly spread
On every slice.

Nannie has told
A story. It was good
About a little girl
Called "Riding Hood."

And now it's time
For me to go to bed,
The fire is clear, and bright,
And gaily-red.

Then Mummy comes
And tucks me in so tight.
The firelight twinkles
When she says, "Goodnight!"

"Hot Cross Buns, Hot Cross Buns, One a Penny, Two a Penny"

"Hot cross buns, Hot cross buns, one a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns! If your daughters don't like them, give them to your sons, one a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns." So goes the old English doggerel—Good Friday approaches, and with it the traditional Hot Cross Bun. Get your recipe ready, or try this tested method of making this historical bread.

Hot Cross Buns
1 egg, 3 tablespoons corn oil, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-2 yeast cake, 1-4 cup lukewarm water, 1 cup scalded milk, 3 cups flour, 1 tablespoon salt, 1-2 cup seeded raisins, beaten egg and frosting.

Beat egg slightly, stir in oil, and add sugar. Dissolve yeast cake in lukewarm water. Add scalded milk to egg mixture, and when lukewarm, add and dissolved yeast. To this, add mixed and sifted dry ingredients and quartered raisins. Cover, and let rise over night. Shape in forms of large biscuits, place in oiled pan one inch apart, let rise. Brush over with beaten egg, and bake in hot oven, 450 degrees F. 20 minutes. Cool and make a cross on top of each bun with frosting made by mixing confectioner's sugar with water.

Gorgas Medals Received by H. S. Essay Winners

Handsome Gorgas medals were awarded today by the Gorgas Memorial Institute of Washington, D. C. to the winner from each high school participating in the Third Annual Gorgas Memorial Essay Contest, which closed on January 25th.

High school principals have made arrangements to have the medal presented at full assembly, and the author will read the winning manuscript.

The Gorgas Memorial conducts a nation-wide essay contests in public parochial high schools each year as a part of its campaign for Better Personal Health. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago contributes generously to make large cash awards possible. The subject of this year's contest was: "Keeping Fit: The Gorgas Program of Personal Health." Schools from every State enrolled in the contest, and in many instances the essay was made an assignment in physiology, biology and physical education classes.

The winning high school essays are now in the hands of the State Judges. In a few weeks the State winners will be selected and will receive a cash award of $20 each. The National Judges will then determine the National winner, whose great fortune it will be to receive $500 in cash and a travel allowance of $250 to Washington to receive the prize.

French Will Print Anne Lindbergh's Poems

Paris—(UP)—The aviation society Les Ailes Brises (The Broken Wings), has translated one of Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh's most famous poems, "Remembrance," and is soon issuing it in Paris.

The American composer, Maury Madison, recently set the poem to music from a French translation of Rene Nazzelles. The poem-song has been offered to the Ailes Brises. In French the poem is known as "Souvenance."

The poem, which starts with the lines: "Your hands have curved about this bowl; Your lips have felt a kiss upon the teacup's brim," was written by Mrs. Lindbergh before she carried the trans-Atlantic flier.

Rhapsody on Jacques Gordon; Here Monday

The Jacques Gordon String Quartet will appear in concert here on next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church, under the auspices of the Dixon Civic Music Association.

When Jacques Gordon announced that he would discontinue his concertship with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra to devote his entire time to the Gordon String Quartet, there were many expressions of regret among his host of friends and admirers. Writers on various daily papers have devoted columns in tribute to their friend who is leaving them. In his Round About Chicago column in the Chicago Herald and Examiner, James Weber Linn wrote the following:

"As everybody who is interested in good music knows, one of the most prominent of our prominent citizens is about to leave us. Permanently and yet temporarily. He will go elsewhere to live, but he will return once or twice a year to delight. He is, and has been for nine years, the first violinist of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and his name is Jacques Gordon. Only he pronounces it Jack.

With the flame of the fire rising and sinking nearby, throwing flying lights and falling shadows in his just-opened eyes. There is something of the oak will, but he must walk always deeper among the flying lights and falling shadows, seeking the final flame which is their source.

"He came here nine years ago, a man of twenty-two. I do not say a boy. That favorite phrase, 'one in whom the child has never died,' is not descriptive of Jack. The child is irresponsible, by turns plaintive and exultant, a finder of trifles, not a seeker for finalities. Gypsies grow up quickly and the gypsy heart is not gay.

"One of these days Jack will do what he promised me some time ago to do—send me the exact information of his plans and the plans of the Gordon String Quartet, which has been endowed to study, and practice and take the first place in the execution of 'chamber music' in the United States and then for seven months in the year to fill our intent and echoing spaces with major melodies, rich with the salvation of discontent.

"When he sends me those plans I shall publish them as an advertisement of my love of my fellow-men and my zeal for their happiness. But it is typical of Jack that he has not sent me those plans yet. His dreams and his work take all his time. He is not thinking of you, or of me, and of what we should like to know of our future enjoyment.

"He knows he is going to a spot, carefully selected, where fiddles will not warp and fall apart in the summertime and where four men may work, work, work, without interruption. He knows he is going to issue thence, he and his fellow-workers, who have to be able-bodied to stand the strain, as well as fine souled to think with strings, and travel everywhere, up and down and across the country, from Maine to California, one-night stands often, now and then a wee kof permanent. A week seems permanent to Jack. It always has. All time is rarely a second snatched from eternity, and a day to a gypsy may be as a thousand years and a thousand years as one day.

"Gay? Jack is as serious as a soul rising up like a thin flame to God. Wistful, plaintive? When he is directing his quartet he might be Clem Huston arranging for the election of President Hoover. Content, like a child, with trifles? He is far too ambitious ever to reveal his amcarries in his sleeve. Somewhere there is a fire, glowing, smoldering in the mysterious forest, and among the leaves and along the ground and hith against the sky it throws its flying lights and drops its falling shadows. Where is it? What company of immortals, all with gypsy souls, sits by it reading the truth in its flickering revelations? Jack Gordon means to know; Jack, who is 'just a fiddler'.

Ham For the Cold Supper de Luxe

Cut cold ham and tongue, or other meat, in thin delicate slices. Use a very sharp knife. Arrange in rows at either end of a large platter with put cups of crisp lettuce filled with marinated asparagus tips, or with highly-seasoned potato and olive salad. Garnish with celery curls, redish flowers, and wedgeshaped pieces of cheese sprinkled with paprika. Serve with thin sandwiches of rye bread spread with sweet butter; for a relish use spiced pears or pineapple."

For Baby's Health And Happiness, Too

The precious little tots require mother's constant care and attention in conjunction with the advice of a physician. Periodic visits to baby's doctor are recommended in all cases. Such visits will eliminate worries and help to detect any unfavorable condition in its early stages. It may only require a slight change in baby's diet, or the suggestion of some simple exercise.

Care of Nursing Bottles and Nipples
To the young mother, a mild harmless antiseptic such as pure borax, is practically indispensable in the nursery. A famous baby specialist, prescribes the following safe method for the care of nursing bottles. After the nursing bottles have been carefully washed with soap and water using a long-handled bottle brush, the bottle is then rinsed out with a heaping teaspoonful of pure borax is poured in and some water added. Shake bottle until all the borax is dissolved. Then fill the bottle with more water and let stand until the next feeding. The bottles should be rinsed once with clear water before filling with milk. This method makes it unnecessary to boil the bottles every day and so saves time and labor.

A new nipple should be boiled once. After each feeding, the nipple should be filled with pure borax and held under running water, while being rubbed between the thumb and fingers. Then placed until the next feeding, in a cupful of water containing one teaspoonful of pure borax. Finally, and just before using, rinse the nipple in clear water.

Baby's Mouth
Prevent the harboring of disease germs in baby's mouth. Pure borax is a safe and efficient agent for rinsing or swabbing out baby's mouth. Use a solution of one teaspoonful of pure borax to a quart of sterilized water.

Baby's Bath
It is imperative that baby's skin be free from impurities. Two table-spoonsful of pure borax to each gallon of water for baby's bath will thoroughly cleanse his tiny pores of all foreign matter, leaving the skin sweet and fresh, and as soft as nature intended. The temperature of baby's bath should be at body heat or slightly above, that is, from 92 degrees to 100 degrees F.

In the contest there were several winners and they will receive six lessons in golf from an expert, as soon as the weather opens up. Mrs. Gross is eager to start the lessons as she is very fond of golf.

PARIS FASHIONS

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris—(UP)—A pair of satin pajamas with one leg white and the other black has created a long murmur in Paris fashion circles. The same idea is shown with printed and plain silks, and occasionally for eccentric contrast the sleeves do the same reverse movement and if the left is one color the right arm is the other.

For the "plage," or beach wear, a new shantung is printed with tiny blue anchors on a beige background. It is used to dresses as well as beach pajamas. Fishnet, in various colors is used for dresses as well as beach pajamas. Fishnet, in various colors is used by Schiaparelli to form yokes and deep backs in many Riviera sport models. Here is found also, a novel beach shoe. It is of cork and raises the wearer at least four inches off the sand. Cut outside in the shape of a Dutch wooden shoe, it is hollowed out at the top just sufficiently to let the foot rest comfortably and has a leather strap that buckles at the outside and holds it on. The cork makes them light in weight and keeps the feet "high and dry."

Lemon Baskets Are Useful Relish Holders

Cut 2 pieces from each lemon, so that what remains will be in the shape of a basket with a handle. Remove all the pulp and put shell's in cold water until ready to use. Wipe carefully and fill with currant jelly, cranberry sauce, pepper relish or chopped sweet pickles. Serve with meat, allowing one basket for each person. Or they may be filled with Tartar sauce as an accompaniment to fish.—By Sarah Field Spint in McCall's for April.

A Firm Foundation For A Frilly Frock!

True chic depends upon the line... The firmly molded, softly rounded figure is delightfully slim under the frill....

BonTon

creates the perfect foundation
.... It gently restrains, and molds....

A. L. Geisenheimer & Co.

MisSimplicity

makes your clothes fit like a Paris Mannequin's!

Leading dressmakers everywhere say, "It's no trick to achieve smart lines, when the frock is fitted over a correct moulding foundation." MisSimplicity, designed by Gossard, skillfully moulds the figure to slim curves. The diagonal "cross-pull" of the waist-line straps flattens the diaphragm and abdomen, uplifts the bust, slenderizes the waistline and holds the figure to correct posture. Side panels of pliant elastic taper the hips to perfection.

"Good morning, Ed—what's new?"

The story that James Watt got the idea of the steam engine by watching a steaming kettle is pure fiction. The power of steam was already known.

The "smoke" of a volcano is merely condensing steam, and the supposed "flames" are but the glowing light of molten material reflected from these vapour clouds.

SALESMEN WANTED

DISTRICT SALESMEN

and MANAGERS

Here is a Virgin Sales Field Rich in Profits for You!

Make $2,600 to $10,000 a Year With No Investment.

If you have ever sold lots in a subdivision, club memberships, stock or specialties, there is an opportunity for you with the Chicago industry where you can make from $50 to $200 a week easily, if you will learn our story.

A sales manager with a national reputation is here to teach you, and every day we will be in the happy position of giving you one or more leads from our direct advertising campaign. In Michigan, Ohio and Indiana we have over 100 men earning twice these amounts weekly. This is not stocks or bonds or real estate, but a proposition that is sold to the wage earner, the salaried man and the farmer, more than anyone else.

We are the largest concern of its kind in the United States. We have United States government approval and have endorsement from 2,000 customers who say we do more than we promise. Just as soon as you qualify and prove that you can make sales, there is an opportunity of a lifetime for you to become a district manager.

We use no high-pressure methods, but have a definite plan that assures your success, if you are willing to work and are ambitious. It has taken us four years to build our business to a million dollar volume in these states, with 7,000 people co-operating and making good money. Large sums have been spent in advertising and $50,000 will be invested here as soon as we get started. This is worthy of your attention.

We are prosperous and busy, therefore, apply in person at 9 A. M. to P. M., or 7:30 P. M. or write or wire. Come to 6242 Western Ave., and see our wonderful display of rabbit products. We will give you all the references you want, but come at once and get your choice of territory.

GLY-CAS MADE HIM FEEL LIKE A DIFFERENT MAN

Stomach, Kidney, Nerve Trouble Yields Easily to New Herbal Remedy After All Else Had Flatly Failed.

"Gly-Cas is the best medicine I have ever taken," says Mr. Harvey Gunn, 101 South Hickory St., Ottawa, Kansas, well known restaurant proprietor of that city. "I had been constipated most of my life, always had to take laxative, my kidneys and bladder were out of order, bothered constantly with night risings, could not sleep or get my rest and was hardly able to work. Stomach troubles added to my miserable condition, gas formed and I bloated dreadfully. Everything I tried failed in my case until I began taking Gly-Cas and now my health is better in every way and I feel like a different person. My bowels act regularly, my stomach is in fine condition, eat anything and am never troubled with gas or bloating, even my nerves have been relieved, sleep good, get my rest, work every day and feel fine. Gly-Cas certainly gives real results."

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon by Schildberg's Pharmacy, 301 First St., and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

HORSE STOLE HORSE

Rapid City, S. D., Mar. 11—(UP)—Anton Horse was under arrest today on charges of stealing a herd of horses. Horse was said to have ridden a stolen horse to Rapid City and attempted to sell it to a horse trader.

However, the horse trader told Horse that the horse had been reported stolen. The horse trader informed authorities who arrested Horse on the horse stealing charge.

Horse and another Indian, Ronald High Pine, will be taken to Pine Ridge Reservation where they are alleged to have stolen the horses.

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

Author of 'HEART HUNGRY,' etc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GYPHY McBRIDE, 10-year-old triplet, goes to meet the best on which ALAN CROSBY is returning from a year and a half in Paris. On the pier the girl sees a beautiful woman waiting to Crosby. He identifies her as MRS. LANGLEY, a ship's acquaintance. Two nights later Crosby breaks an engagement with Gypsy, explaining he is spending the evening with his business associate. The girl goes to the theater alone and encounters Crosby with Mrs. Langley in the after-theater crowd. There is a scene. Mrs. Langley drives away in her car and Gypsy and Crosby go home in a cab, quarrelling. Next day at the office Gypsy is offered a promotion but she is too unhappy to be interested. She takes a dictatorial treat from Mr. Reynolds, her new superior. Later she hurries home, determined to apologize to Crosby, and meets him in the hallway.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VII

FOR an instant surprise held both of them. Then Gypsy stepped back. "Why, why, hello—" she began.

Crosby ducked his head in what was intended for a bow. He moved aside to let her pass.

But the girl did not move. "Alan!" she cried. "Where are you going?" She was looking down at the suit case Crosby was carrying. "You're—You're not leaving, are you?"

Crosby nodded. "Moving to a place farther up town," he said curtly. He paused an instant then added: "I didn't suppose you'd be interested."

She overlooked the thrust "Alan—please," the words came with an incoherent rush, "I—there's something I want to talk to you about. I didn't mean what I said last night. You'll believe that, won't you?"

The young man frowned, glancing over one shoulder.

"What do you want to do?" he asked quietly. "Broadcast? I'm sorry but I've got to go—"

"But you can't! You've got to hear what I want to tell you!" "I've got to go, Gypsy," Crosby repeated impatiently. He put a hand on the doorknob, turned it and crossed the threshold.

The girl caught his arm. "Not yet!" she cried. "Oh, Alan! Please let me talk to you. Please wait! Just for five minutes if you're in a hurry. Let's go somewhere where we can be alone!"

United Press Staff Correspondent
Paris — (UP) — The throne of the Kings of Greece at Athens, after being without an occupant for nearly eight years, is prepared to receive once again ex-King George, who fled the country in 1923.

On a recent visit to Paris, the former ruler made no secret that powerful influences in this country are at work to have him return and that he himself has not given up hope of re-ascending the throne.

Greece declared for a republic by plebiscite in March, 1924, but the previous year the King and Queen, who had fled to the island of Crete, were declared the lawful rulers of the country. The royal couple left with the parting word of the country's leaders to remain abroad until further notice. The ex-king, according to advices here, is awaiting this call.

The attitude of the former monarch is that he never abdicated and therefore is still ruler.

Reigned 12 Months
The son of the unfortunate King "Tino," who died in exile in Italy, after twice being overthrown as monarch, in 1917 and 1922, King George reigned with his Queen, the Princess Elizabeth of Rumania, only twelve months.

Observers agree that the royal troubles are mainly traceable to the attitude of the Queen Mother, Sophie, during the World War.

A sister of the Emperor of Germany, Queen Sophie intrigued to bring her country into the conflict on the side of the Central Powers. After the political leaders at Athens decided to join the Allied cause, the King and Queen were deposed, suspected of German sympathies.

By a curious coincidence, the former ruler of Greece's neighbor country, Albania, Prince William of Wied, has announced that he also is ready for a recall, claiming that like ex-King George of Greece he has never abdicated.

Short Rule Forecast
Arriving in Bulgaria recently, Prince William indicated that in his opinion King Zogu of Albania could not hope to occupy the Albanian throne long and that the Albanian people would welcome back their former ruler.

If they secretly hope and believe, the former Greek and Albanian rulers regain their thrones, there will remain eight kings, or queens, without countries.

The "dozen" of them all is ex-King Manuel of Portugal who, with his Queen, has lived in London since he escaped the revolution 28 years ago. He is a near neighbor of George of Greece.

There are also the ex-Kaiser in Holland, the ex-Empress Zita, Ferdinand of Bulgaria, the former Sultan of Turkey, Abdul Medjid, the ex-Khedive of Egypt, ex-King Amunullah of Afghanistan and the youthful ex-Empress of China.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, minerals, water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute.

Step Right Up, Gents—What'll It Be?

No Sir; "Dry" Speeches Didn't Greet Princes in Chile!

Somewhat different than the formal ceremonies which have greeted Great Britain's tourist princes in many South American countries is the convivial scene shown here in Santiago, Chile. The cameraman got behind the bar in the fashionable Union Club and pictured the Prince of Wales (right) and his brother, Prince George (center), as, cocktail glasses in hand, they responded to the welcome of Chilean officials. Standing directly beside the two princes is Luis Boegono, president of the Union Club.

ASSAULTED OFFICER

Hackensack, N. J., Mar. 11—(UP)—

Every newspaperman should have self control, Judge William Seufert said today in sentencing Bud Von Carlhousen, editor of a weekly newspaper, to a suspended sentence of six months. Von Carlhousen was charged with assaulting a policeman after he had been summoned for questioning relative to attacks he made on administration of unemployment funds.

ROCHELLE NEWS

ROCHELLE—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Anderson have returned from a several weeks' recreation trip to Sarasota and other Florida and southern cities. Mr. Anderson is to manage the Rochelle Asparagus Co., this coming season.

Ray Orput, prominent Rockford architect and a former Rochelle boy, has recently completed a new high school building for Waterman and the local school board plan to soon visit the building. Mr. Orput is now completing a $30,000 gymnasium at Kewanee.

Harold P. Stevens is employed as tax collector at the Rochelle National Bank.

Helen Barnett is confined to her home with mumps.

Funeral services for Luke Wheeler, Chicago, were held at 9:30 A. M. at St. Patrick's Catholic church. The deceased spent the last few months at the Daum home at Steward. Mr. Wheeler is survived by his widow, Mrs. B. W. Harbison and Mr. and Mrs. Porter Sieman and daughter, Virginia, all of Chicago, attended the services here.

Miss Helen Hungerford entertained club members at a bridge party held at her home Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown returned Tuesday from an extended trip to San Francisco, California.

Mrs. C. E. Gardner is ill and confined to her home. Miss Fern Baxter of Chicago, is assisting in her care.

While visiting a neighboring city, I had to drive at a snail's pace dodging children on bicycles. It seems that many of them infest the thoroughfares and always at an hour when traffic is most dense.

They constitute a real peril to those who use the roads in a decent manner, and the pity of it is that they do not seem to have the least thought for anyone but themselves.

Another terrifying proposition for the motorist are the young ladies and gentlemen who use roller skates. They dash down drive-ways into the streets, looking neither to the right or left and expect the motorist to keep out of their way.

There should be some way of keep-

Only the exercise of extreme skill and cool nerve on the part of automobile drivers keeps them and the street-playing children from making hasty exits into another world.

Missing Carroll, Ia. Merchant Is Sought

Council Bluffs, Ia., Mar. 11—(AP)—Fifty friends and neighbors of Joseph Light, missing Carroll, Iowa, merchant, made a futile search for him today in the countryside between here and Hamburg, Iowa.

The group, traveling in a dozen cars, visited every farm house in the region, talked with persons in each small town and showed his picture everywhere they went, but at noon had uncovered no clues.

Light disappeared eight days ago after a buying trip to Omaha. His snow-laden automobile was found on a street there three days later, but no trace of him has since been found.

HONOR DEAD GENERALS

Nem York, March 11—(UP)—Martial honors were given today as the bodies of two general officers of the

"Caterpillar" 20 Puts In A Fine, Mellow Seed Bed

Bossert and Patchett at Reddick, Illinois, put a finishing touch to their seed bed, pulling a 17-foot spring-tooth harrow with their "Caterpillar" 20 Track-type Tractor.

THEY know, as thousands of other farmers have learned, that "Caterpillar" is the year 'round tractor—that it performs perfectly in any kind of weather and that it does all jobs better, quicker, and cheaper.

Just read what Mr. Bossert wrote us:

"... I think it is the only tractor for farming as it does not pack the soil. I pull three 10-foot discs everywhere in high speed for putting in small grain and also on loose plowed ground for putting in corn. If you hit a spot that is a little wet or sticky you don't have to stop or go around for fear of getting stuck. I also pull a plow, spring-tooth harrow, a two-row corn picker, and I figure on pulling about five rotary hoes on corn this Spring. I picked about 250 acres of corn and pulled the wagon beside the husker, all in high speed. And I find it very economical on fuel."

Learn NOW how you can save on all your jobs with a "Caterpillar" 20. Just send coupon for full details.
